Objectives and Investment Policy

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve long-term capital appreciation through compound growth. Compound growth is the annual growth rate of an investment applied year on year for a specified period of time.

Investment Policies

The Fund aims to achieve its objective through investing in equities, debt securities, financial derivative instruments ("FDI") and other collective investment schemes ("CIS"). The Fund is actively managed, meaning the Investment Manager uses their expertise to pick investments to achieve the Fund's objective. Investment can be direct or indirect. The equities the Fund may invest in include, but are not limited to, common shares of companies and depository receipts (securities issued by banks that represent company shares). The Fund may invest in companies of any size. The debt securities in which the Fund may invest, such as bonds and money market instruments, may be rated investment grade or below investment grade by a recognised rating agency and may be issued by any government or corporation worldwide. For efficient portfolio management purposes, hedging and/or investment purposes, the Fund may invest in a wide range of FDIs including, but not limited to, futures, options, credit default swaps and forwards. The Fund will select its investments by utilising a wide variety of data inputs and analysing historical price data, trading volume, market returns and volatility through both algorithmic and non-algorithmic means including exercise by the Investment Manager of judgements regarding the actual timing, positions sizing, leverage and other considerations such as the cost of execution and the persistency of investment returns. The Fund is not managed with reference to a benchmark. In accordance with the UCITS Regulations, the Fund may seek indirect exposure to commodities and real estate investments via exchange traded products ("ETPs") and real estate investment trusts ("REITs"). Such investments may, but are not guaranteed to, assist in diversifying the Fund's portfolio.

For more information about the investment policy and strategy of the Fund, please refer to the section entitled "Investment Objective and Policies" of the Fund's Supplement.

The Fund may be suitable for institutional investors with an investment horizon of over 3 years who seek capital growth. Investors should have an understanding of investments in the securities in which the Fund will invest and note that there is high risk of short-term capital loss compared to other investment types.

adverse movements of the denominated currency and the base currency. The Fund will attempt to use FDI to hedge against negative currency movements, however there is no guarantee that any attempts at hedging will be successful.

Investors in share classes denominated in currencies other than the Fund's base currency may also be affected by adverse movements of the base currency and the share class currency. In hedged share classes, the Fund will attempt to use FDI to remove the effect of such currency movements, however there is no guarantee that any attempts at hedging will be successful.

Credit Risk: The Fund may be adversely affected if the issuer of a debt instrument fails to meet its repayment obligations (i.e. defaults).

Derivatives Risk: The Fund may invest in FDIs to hedge against risk and/or to increase return. There is no guarantee that the Fund's use of derivatives for either purpose will be successful. Derivatives are subject to counterparty risk (including potential loss of instruments) and are highly sensitive to underlying price movements, interest rates and market volatility and therefore come with a greater risk.

Operational Risk (including safekeeping of assets): The Fund and its assets may experience material losses as a result of technology/system failures, programming errors, cybersecurity breaches, human error, policy breaches, or incorrect valuation of units.

Liquidity Risk: The Fund may invest in securities which may, due to negative market conditions, become difficult to sell or may need to be sold at an unfavourable price. This may affect the overall value of the Fund and is significant due to the Fund's indirect exposure to property.
